

GOVERNMENT POLYTECHNIC, BHADRAK

BRANCH-TEXTILE ENGINEERING DEPT.

SEM-6TH

SUBJECT- TH-3 GARMENT MANUFACTURE TECHNOLOGY

PREPARED BY- SMT. RASHMI REKHA PATEL,

SR. LECT. GD&DM

PAGES- 1-4

6th semester Textile Engineering

Definition of garment:

What is garment? It is a mutual enquiry for many people. Actually a garment is a slice of article of apparel which is manufactured past times stuff or textile materials for protecting human trunk in addition to decorated purpose. There are many types of garments similar woven or knitted alongside not the same names in addition to uses.

Classification of Garments:

Garments could classified based on the sex like female, male & children's garments. Generally, based on use, manner in addition to material, dissimilar varieties of garments exhibit dissimilar styles.

Presently, the garments are classified based on the next aspects:

1. Type of fabric:

- Knit (T-shirt, sweater)
- Woven (shirt, suitings in addition to denim)
- Nonwoven (diaper, socks)

2. Season:

- Winter (jacket)
- Summer (tank top)
- Spring (singlet)
- Autumn (shirt)
- Late Autumn (shirt (design))

3. Events:

- Party (fashion wear)
- Active (regular wear)
- Evening gown (outfit)
- Night (soft fit)

4. Application:

- Formal (collar shirt)
- Swimwear (bikini, encompass ups)
- Sportswear (trouser)
- Lingerie (inner wear, slumber wear)

5. Method of manufacture:

- Readymade (complete)
- Tailored (measurement)
- Furnishing (automated)

6. Source:

- Leather (leather)

- Natural (leaf)
- Artificial (fur)

7. Gender in addition to age:

- Women's
- Men's
- Kid's
- Toddler

8. Shape in addition to styling:

- Dresses (sari)
- Shirts (neck wear)
- Skirts (elastic in addition to stitches)
- Suits (official outfit)

9. Length of garment:

- Shorts (panty wear)
- Three quarters (cargo pant)
- Full have on (pant)
- Bermuda have on (thigh wear)
- Pullover (stockings)

Harmonised system:

A harmonised arrangement (HS) was established by Customs Cooperation Council (CCC) on June 1983. The purposes of the HS are to

1. Support international merchandise
2. Facilitate the collection in addition to comparing of statistics
3. Facilitate the standardisation of the merchandise documentation in addition to transmission of information
4. Promote a closed correlation amid import in addition to export merchandise statistics in addition to production statistics

Classification of clothes in Harmonised system:

The classification of readymade garments is highly complicated due to various assortments of fashions in addition to at the same fourth dimension highly sensitive because of the imposition of quantitative control. The classification of garments is shown in Figure.

Mens Wear

Often, we hear that it is not a challenging task to select the clothes for men because they have few dress styles and colors and do not to be lost in to endless variety of dresses, styles, colors and trends. But if we give a thought to the statement we would actually have the opinion that it rather difficult to select the right kind of men's wear because they have limited options to choose from and finding something new and appealing every time is really difficult. But thanks to the metro sexual trend that have slowly gained the interest in designers and people for men's wear. Men may not have a plenty of dress style to choose from but slight variations and changes are very quite visible in the every year men's collection.

Men's clothing though is basically structured around the pants and shirts but still they can be categorized in to formal wear, business wear, casual wear and athletic/sport wear which are divided on the basis of the occasion they are worn on. Let's look at the classification for the comfort of understanding the styles that fit your wardrobe.

Differnt catogories of men's Wear

Formal Wear:

Formal wear are traditionally been worn on formal social events. Formal wear suits are unquestionably the right clothing for social events like a wedding, formal business parties, garden party or dinner. The typical western style formal wear are stereotyped by colors like black, white and grey and with the exchange of cultural values on the ground of globalization, this style has spread phenomenally across all the countries. In India too this style has remarkably become the style statement of big shots of corporate houses and has become the standard attire for corporate function and award functions..

Business Wear:

Business wear are particularly proffered for your day to day office clothing. They are one step down from the formal wear. They include business suits, dress shirts and pants and ties for men. They are complemented with leather shoes and belts. This outfit should be very comfortable and easy to carry and handle.

Casual Wear:

For Indian men casual wear is simply indented as jeans and t-shirts. This is in reality too is the most comfortable casual attire. Your pair of straight fit jeans suits most of the casual events and give you the opportunity to lay back in comfort. Whether you want to hang around with friends or go out for dinner with family or simply enjoy a world cup match in your living room with popcorn. But there are there other attractive and relaxing outfits that will perfectly match your casual mood.

Athletic/ Sportswear:

Specialized sportswear are not very difficult to find out but for easy walking, running or gymming you can easily survive with a track suite or simple lower and t-shirt pair. A few pairs of durable sweat pants will keep you comfortable while your gali cricket game or a more professional office sports meet. Synthetic sportswear is the ideal sportswear in a good quality fabric and elastics. For other sports like tennis, badmintons you can wear Bermudas, shorts and other knee length comfortable sportswear.

Outerwear/ winter wear:

Though India is a warm country and winter are normally not a challenge in most parts of India. But north India definitely requires you to feel the chill so be prepared for those 3-4 months of winters. When the temperature drops you should better find a good collection to wear in both formal as well as casual function. For formal function and events, you can definitely wear those wool suits, blazers and wool threaded clothes, also can add a formal jacket to the collection.

For casual events you should go for thick clothes. There are casual t0shirts and shirts specially made for winters. You can surely have sweaters to add style to your personality and there are other leather and woolen jackets that would enhance your appearance and also keep you warm in the cold days. 2-3 scarf and mufflers would add successfully some more colors to the young generation boys. Coats are always a safe option to look smart while saving you from cold.

---

Smt. Rashmi Rekha Patel

Sr.lect. GDDM and I/C HOD,Textile Engg